

You've Found Me!

Looking back, It's hard to imagine that I would have believed anyone if they told me about all the wild things I'd go through.

The past two years have been a crazy adventure that I'll remember forever. And guess what? I have my whole life ahead of me to pursue my passion for game development.

Okay, I get it, you might be a bit lost. But the story and puzzles you just went through are part of an ARG that I got the opportunity to create while I was studying Game Design and Technology at the University of Gothenburg.

I understand that it might be disappointing to learn that Blue never existed. In reality, Blue was just a part of myself that I incorporated into my fantasy world. And get this, I even got paid for it (granted, it was in the form of CSN), but how awesome is that?

Are you interested in creating your own dream game or game engine? Then you should definitely check out the master's program at:

<https://www.gu.se/en/study-göteborg/game-design->